Message from the Editor :

Ned Swain from Asheville, N.C. visited Washington County recently and told me about a very interesting book called Swains of Nantucket - Tales and Trails by Robert H. Swain. This is 226 pages of information on Swains and their Allied families, etc. The book includes photos, Bible Records dating back to 1730, wills, newspaper clippings, and a lot more. A lot of information is included on Washington County as well as counties all over N.C. and the U.S.A. The book cost $22.00. If interested - make checks payable to : Robert H. Swain - 6510 Paleface Place - Charlotte, N.C. 28214

Anyone needing "Phelps" information might be interested in the "Phelps Family News". This newsletter is an official publication of the Phelps Family Association of America which is a non-profit, unincorporated organization with an annual membership fee of $10.00. Make checks payable to: Dallas L. Phelps - 1002 Queen Street - Camden, S.C. 29020

Phelps Point (now Hertford) North Carolina

Phelps Point was created by act of the North Carolina General Assembly in 1758 on land owned by Jonathan Phelps, Jr. (born 28 Feb 1730, died 1759) who was the son of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Toms) Phelps who were Quakers. Jonathan, Sr. was a printer in Perquimans County and married Elizabeth Toms, daughter of Francis and Margaret Bogue (Lawrence) Toms, 16 Feb 1720. Jonathan, Jr. was born 28 Feb 1730/31 and married Dorothy Jordan on 5 Oct 1750 with Jonathan being licensed as an ordinary and ferry service in 1755 on the Perquimans River and Albemarle Sound. The town of Phelps Point was known for its large tobacco warehouses and changed its name to Hertford before 1800.

Pruning the Vine

"When you start searching your vine for your roots ,

Don't be surprised if you find some wild off shoots .

When your family says : "Now, don't you go prove that we're kin to Old John Doe ."

ANSWER :

"You're kin to him , I want you to know .

You needn't make such an indignant fuss ,

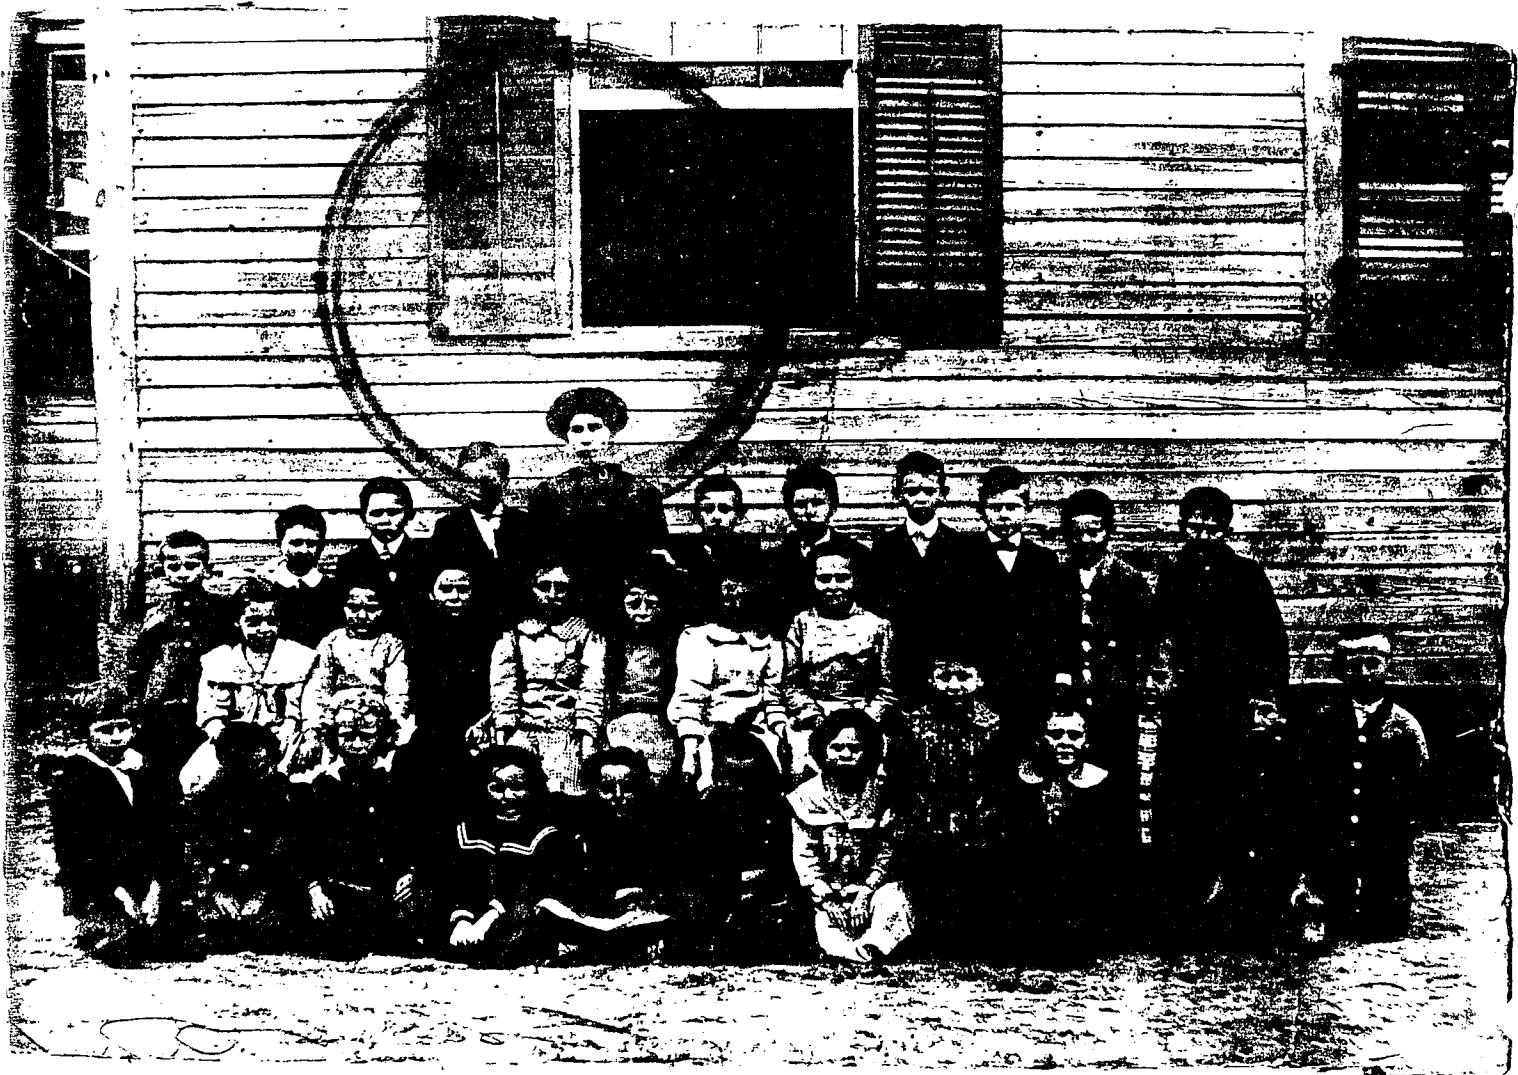

We're kin to him , he's kin to us .

When you start pruning the twigs from the vine ,

Remember! Your twig may be the twig no one else wants to find."

Marriage Banns

From : Tracing Your English Ancestors

Submitted by : Sylvia Whitford

Both banns and marriage licenses have been used since the middle ages as means by which the church protected itself from performing invalid marriages, particularly those which involved close relatives or bigamy. At a time when the reading of banns--the intention to marry a named person--over three consecutive Sundays would be heard by the majority of the population in the parish of the bride and groom, it would normally be expected that someone would know the parties sufficiently well to be able to inform the clergyman if the ceremony should not take place.
